HAMLIN WINS OVER ROCHESTER 26-0

Friday afternoon, October 15, the Rochester Football team came to Hamlin to play a football game, on Hamlin's field. This game had not been planned very long before it was played, so there was very little advertising put out, that it was to be.

The Hamlin Pied Pipers came out victorious with a score of 26-0 to make the first victory of the year for them. This game was tough to the finish, although every player showed good sportsmanship.

The outstanding players of the game were Morrison Nicholson who made three touchdowns and George Dean, who made one touchdown which was a lateral from Treadwell. The line did some good blocking which made Hamlin's strong offense possible.

'BEAT STAMFORD'

—"Beat Stamford" is the battle cry of the entire school now. Every player is hoping that he will do his best in that game which is to be played on Friday, October 29. It is to be the game of the season and everyone knows it. Coach Seely promises that the team will be in excellent shape, due to hard training. This game will be played on Hamlin's field. It will be the HARDEST, FASTEST, and TOUGHEST game far Hamlin.

Seats will be erected on the west side of the football field to accommodate approximately five hundred people, including the Hamlin Band and Pep Squad.

Let's all get the football spirit and go to the game if we can. Admission will be 20c for school children and 35c for adults.

Beat Stamford!

JUNIORS READY FOR CARNIVAL

The Juniors met last week in two called meetings to complete plans for the Junior Carnival, which is to be held Oct. 30, and to elect a class mother and father for the term 1937-38. In the meetings, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Calhoun were selected as the mother and father of the class. They will be assisted in their work for the year by Mrs. P. A. Fowler, Mrs. Buren Carlton and Mrs. J. Uben. The Juniors are very glad to have these faithful and enthusiastic workers to support them in putting over their program for the year.

Also in the meeting, Miss Billie Mae Jackson was chosen as the Junior class queen and De France Burton was selected as her escort. The class will be very well represented by these two in the contest to elect the Queen and Escort of the Hamlin High School.

As class colors, maroon and white were chosen, with maroon and white carnations as the class flower. The class motto, "Quitters Never Win; Winners Never Quit," expresses the determination and the enthusiasm of the Juniors in carrying out the year's program successfully. With this motto before the class, in their hearts, and in their minds, we believe that no obstacle will be too great to stop them in their progress.

The Juniors wish to take this opportunity to thank the student body and faculty, and the P. T. A. in helping us to make this year's carnival the biggest and the best High School Carnival to be presented in West Texas.

Also we wish to express our sincere appreciation to the business firms of Hamlin for their cheerful support and cooperation, especially do we thank those whose ads appear on the Junior Page, in another part of this paper. Only with their hearty support could the Juniors put over a program of successful events.

The Juniors are behind the Pipers 100% when they clash with the Stamford Bull Dogs, Friday at 3:00 P. M., and wish them every success.

DR. J. F. TAYLOR DIED SUDDENLY MONDAY

The business section of Hamlin was shocked and saddened Monday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, when the news spread that Dr. J. F. Taylor had dropped on the street and passed away within a few minutes.

Dr. Taylor had been going about his usual affairs that day, had returned from his residence on Central Avenue after lunch, went to his office over the Waggoner Drug Co. and apparently was just the same quiet, smiling robust strong fellow his friends had always been accustomed to see.

Those who observed him immediately preceding his death say that he was seeking a small note book and had ask for it at two drug stores and failing to find just what he wanted he went to Inzer's and it was while returning just after he stepped off the sidewalk that he was seen to falter and sink and fell back.

Among the first to reach him was Dr. A. E. Pardue, a fellow practitioner for more than twenty years, and others took him to the office of Dr. J. T. Bynum, Sr. at the rear of the drug store. Efforts were made to revive him but evidently death occurred on the street.

Thus one of Hamlin's most valuable and honored citizens' life came to an end without warning.

Dr. J. F. Taylor was born near the city of Lexington, Tennessee on November 11, 1870 and thus was 66 years, 11 months and 7 days of age.

He was reared by his grandmother and soon started his life's battle on his own, and by hard and constant efforts won a good education, attended Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn., studied medicine and started his practice in Texas, in Hamilton County when yet a young man. He returned to the University of his native state from time to time and completed his course. From almost the very beginning of his professional career he was associated in one way or another with J. J. Waggoner of this city, and the two men grew as the years passed to be like brothers—where one was there the other might soon be found, and what one was interested in the other was also—even while death was so near they had planned a trip this Thursday to a neighboring state to look after their mutual business.

Dr. Taylor was united in marriage to Miss Ola May Fowler in Meridian, Texas in 1901. This couple was noted for their tender companionship. To this union there were born two children. One daughter, Margie, passed away at the age of three, the other Frank Taylor, of Fort Worth, Assistant United States District Attorney.

Dr. Taylor and his family came to Hamlin in 1915 and a year later moved into the residence which now is one of the beautiful buildings in Hamlin.

From the beginning of his life Dr. Taylor evidenced an interest in the Methodist church of this city and at once proved himself a citizen of the highest rank. He manifested great interest in everything in the Hamlin community worthwhile, and because of this he was given places of responsibility. He served in an official capacity in his church, being a teacher of a class, superintendent and steward. He was interested in education and for several years was a member of the school board. He was interested in the city government and accepted the responsible position of Mayor. He took an especial interest in the state and national affairs. Dr. Taylor was a faithful Mason and in every manner measured up to the highest as a christian gentleman.

When death came the faces of his most intimate neighbors were not the only ones to show sorrow. During his long life here he was ready to respond to the call of the sick and distressed. He would only ask where do they live and how do you get there. He thus won the hearts of the poorest, the Mexican, the negro and all alike. That was why there were so many strange faces at his funeral and so many tears, that was why so many asked permission to peep in and see the kindly face that so many times brought cheer to a despairing family.

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church on Tuesday

OF INTEREST TO OUR FARMERS

Mr. G. G. Gibson, Assistant Extension Dairyman from A. & M. College will be in Jones County on Tuesday, November 2, for the purpose of organizing a Jones County Dairy Herd Testing and Improving Association, at 2:30 P. M. in the District Court Room at Anson.

There are twelve such organizations in Texas with 150 members which are being benefitted by this type of work, as it enables them to improve their methods of dairying.

It is urged that all dairymen attend this meeting.

A forty five ton trench silo was filled with an ensilage cutter on the Louis Hardy farm one mile west of Hamlin recently. Mr. Hardy states that he will feed out fifty head of beef cattle, from this silage, later on in the year.

Mrs. J. H. Feagan is in San Angelo with her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Fletcher who is very ill with pneumonia. Mrs. Fletcher is a former citizen of Hamlin, and has many friends here who will be sorry to learn of her illness.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McGough and son Bill visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Hagar in Ranger the past week-end. It was a family reunion. They were accompanied by Mrs. McGough's sister, Mrs. H. S. Smith of Big Spring.

afternoon in the presence of the largest number of people, perhaps ever to assemble in Hamlin. Every nook and corner of the building was filled, and more. One of the rare features of the funeral was the number of former pastors on the rostrum. Rev. Jameson of Colorado a former neighbor whose wife was perhaps saved by the ever kind physician, was present by his own request. Rev. Palmer of Sweetwater was present, and Rev. Hamblen of Abilene, who was Dr. Taylor's first Hamlin pastor and neighbor, was the principal speaker at the funeral, and being an orator of unusual ability paid a most beautiful tribute to his former member, steward and neighbor. He said in his beginning remarks that sometimes a minister is embarrassed to speak at the funeral of some men, but this day the limit of one's vocabulary could be used in remarks on the life of a good, true man. But the minister was not extravagant in his address but everyone knew each and every statement was just as true. Besides the out-of-town ministers, the local pastor, Rev. Hanks, and Rev. J. Henry Littleton had parts on the program. Rev. Littleton had been associated with the deceased almost the entire time Dr. Taylor had lived in Hamlin.

Numerous floral offerings from near and far joined their language of love with the host of people present.

It was noticeable the number of people present from the neighboring towns about Hamlin. Attorneys at present and formerly associated with Attorney Frank Taylor were present from Dallas and Fort Worth, being Edward C. Meeks, Burt Barr, Clyde G. Hood, U. S. assistant district attorney all of Dallas. Also Clyde O. Eastus of Fort Worth U. S. District Attorney came up from his court in San Angelo.

Relatives of the family present at the funeral from Dallas were Mrs. Anna Branum and her daughter Miss Leota Branum, sister of Mrs. Taylor; Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Fowler, brother of Mrs. Taylor; F. H. Newsom, a nephew and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burtner, and Mrs. J. S. Henry, nieces of Mrs. Taylor, and from Stephenville a nephew, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Newsom.

Physicians from Abilene, Stamford and Anson who had been closely connected with Dr. Taylor came for the funeral.

Burial arrangements were in charge of the Barrow Company and following the funeral the Masonic Lodge of Hamlin had charge of the services at East Cemetery where the body was placed to rest.

Hamlin has lost a good citizen, a conscientious and efficient physician, a tried and true christian man whom we shall miss and whose life we shall long remember.

A. TINSLEY

A. Tinsley was born in the state of Mississippi, on December 21, 1875 and died at his home east of Hamlin on Wednesday, October 13, 1937, making his age 61 years, 9 months and 23 days.

The deceased came with his parents to Texas when very young and settled at Italy, Texas.

He was united in marriage to Miss Lena Roebuck in the Italy community, and to this union there were four children. The companion and the four children survive. The children are Mrs. V. D. Sallis of Dallas, M. A. Tinsley also of Dallas and Marvin and Edwin living with their mother.

Mr. Tinsley had one brother, C. Tinsley, who passed away about four years ago.

Mr. Tinsley came to this community in 1924 and occupied one of the Culbertson farms east of Hamlin, previous to that time he had been connected with Mr. Culbertson and in all their business relations numbered about twenty-five years. He was considered one of the best farmers in the county, always progressive and at the front in every movement. He had a very pleasing personality and was energetic in his work. He was stricken with pneumonia and within a few days succumbed.

Mr. Tinsley was a member of the Church of Christ in Hamlin and was constant and faithful in all of its work. He was at one time a 32nd degree Mason.

Funeral services were conducted at the church Thursday afternoon of last week by the Minister Woodie Holden who paid a tribute of love and esteem to his memory, as a christian gentleman and as a citizen.

Edwin Fizer, of Wichita Falls banks, formerly a Hamlin boy came down this week to visit old friends and to look after their property here and the farm near Post City on the Plains. Edwin really is claimed by the Herald—years ago he learned the printing trade here and ever since then we have watched his success in life.

Dr. and Mrs. Estes have lived in Hamlin less than a year, but they have made many friends in all ranks in this community.

The Herald regrets to learn that this valuable couple are to return to Abilene within a few weeks and take up the work of the Senior Dr. Estes in that city and community. While here Dr. Estes was associated with Dr. Bynum in the Hamlin Hospital.

I desire to be myself; to pay what I owe; to work and earn a living; to live simply and plainly; to have no desire for riches; to love one woman at a time; to change my opinions from day to day as I see the light; to give each and all the free privilege of thinking as they please; asking only that I may do likewise; to be unafraid to express any truth when it seems a truth to me; to wilfully injure no man, woman, child or animal; to live out my days in peace; to have no hatred except perennial hatred for pretense, ham, can't and hypocrisy; and particularly a hatred of war that dominates every cell of my brain. next spring to start trouble all over again. The same is true if the old stalks and leaves are left on the ground.

"To secure spring blooms from the hardy annual flowers, plant the seed this month. They may be planted among the perennials, in the bulb beds, or elsewhere.

"For the most and earliest blooms and longest stems, plant sweet peas this month or next. Because the sweet pea is a deep-rooted plant, the soil should be prepared good and deep and made very fertile and the seed planted in a trench six or eight inches deep. Cover seed two or three inches only and gradually pull the dirt to the plants as they grow taller. Thin out to two to four inches apart. In case of extreme cold during the middle of latter part of the winter, cover with leaves, hay, or straw while the cold spell lasts.

"Pansy seed planted now in narrow rows in a well-prepared seedbed will provide late winter and early spring blooms. Put the bed in a corner where poultry wire may be stretched across it for protection in case of severe freezing weather.

"This month and next is a good time to plant peonies. They demand a rich soil. Cover the crowns a couple of inches deep.

"For producing blooms in pots or glass bowls the paper-white narcissus is fine. After putting in pots or bowls place in a cool, dark place for three or four weeks, then bring out to the light.

"This month or the next is the time to plant all kinds of bulbs, especially lilies, tulips, hyacinths, and jonquils."

OUR NOTION AND WORLD AFFAIRS

President Roosevelt's speech on world affairs, in which he castigated dictatorships and proposed a virtual quarantine of bellicose powers, is perhaps the most important international event of many months. It was greeted with almost unanimous praise in this country, by papers of all political affiliations. It charted a definite course which this government is apparently prepared to follow. It was direct, aggressive and, for the head of a government, extremely daring. In the view of the experts, it is believed certain that the British and possibly the French foreign offices were consulted before the speech was made, and that the plan of action laid down by the President is approved by the three great democracies of the world.

Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion is as simple as it is revolutionary. In effect, he said that it might be necessary to place a towering commercial wall around the nations which are responsible for today's war scares and war prospects. Peaceful nations would refuse to export to these countries, and they would not import from them. Little by little, as supplies on hand dwindled, the belligerent powers would find themselves lacking in the raw and finished materials which are essential to life both in peace and in war. Thus, faced with want and privation, they would find it impossible to pursue their dreams of conquest.

The President did not mention any country by name. But it was obvious that he was referring to three powers: Japan, Italy, Germany. Italy has taken over Abyssinia, in disregard of all treaties, by armed force. And Germany, with Hitler as its spokesman, makes no secret of the fact that it regards colonial expansion as essential.

The world effect of such a declaration of potential policy would have been nowhere near as great had it come from the head of any other country. We are remote from all other major powers. We are peacefully inclined. We are not of the two nations which are economically self contained—that it, which possesses within their territorial borders the resources needed to provide every necessity and most of the luxuries of modern life. And, for the past few years, we have been the great question mark in international affairs—we have moved slowly, said little and have kept aloof from participation in world events.

The President's attitude, roughly described, is that we could not escape being involved in a major war, that we must therefore cooperate to prevent war. He gave approval to American cooperation with the League of Nations—which, significantly, is shunned by Germany, Italy and Japan. Out of this has come the belief that in the immediate future the world will be divided into two camps—the democracies and the dictatorships. On the side of the democracies there will also be the only dictatorship which is economically self-sufficient—Russia.

The strength of an alliance between the democracies and the U. S. S. R. is impossible to exaggerate. From either the economic or military standpoint, they are immensely superior to the dictatorships. Japan, Italy and Germany must import tremendous quantities of the basic commodities in order to exist. They must export their own specialties, such as silk and olive oil and wine, in order to obtain foreign credits. Close the world's markets to them, and at the same time forbid them to buy in the democracies, and they would be ruined. And, should they elect to fight, every recognized military expert is certain that they would be doomed to quick and crushing defeat. The U. S. and England have the greatest navies afloat. Russia has the largest and best equipped standing army in the world. The dictatorships have nothing to match these instruments of force.

The President's address has already achieved results. Japan has started a campaign to justify in this country its war in China. Mussolini is talking more softly than is his usual wont. Hitler speaks of peace. And the League of Nations, given new strength by Mr. Roosevelt's stand, is in a far better position to be a major influence than at any time in the past five years, and to resurrect of its lost prestige.

Summing up, a union of the democracies is designed to achieve two ends. One, to maintain peace. Second, if that fails, to make sure that the ensuing war will be swift and ruinous to the dictatorships.—INDUSTRIAL REVIEW.

Will We Have an Adequate American Merchant Marine?

Chairman Kennedy of the New Maritime Commission Has Started Work—First Ship for the U. S. Lines

From the Capitol Hill to the White House you will not find a member of the Washington "Merry-Go-Round" who is not predicting that the Stars and Stripes will soon be flying on "better and bigger

New Deal. When there is a hard job to be done Franklin D. telephones and the "Man-at-the-Keyhole" in Washington reports the conversation as follows:—

"Joe, this is the White House. I've got a new job for you."

At the other end:—

"Frank, Please. Stop picking on me. I want a new Government job as much as I want a rattle-snake in the parlor. What's the job now?"

"Well, Joe the country has to have poor-house. If this is an order, I bow

So "Joe" Kennedy has been drafted and the man who took the hardest ever handed out to an unwilling official holder will start the riveters at work on new ship hulls. Why does Mr. Kennedy shy at being on the National payroll. It is simple. He makes in his private business from $300,000 to $500,000 a year and when he takes a government job every dollar of his private revenue cut off.

When the President made "Joe" Kennedy chairman of the Securities Commission with what looked like "Czarist" control over the bulls and bears of Wall Street and with authority to regulate the stock exchanges of the country the man was weeping and wailing. Soon Chairman Kennedy showed that it was not the intention of the Administration to drive business out of the country a honest bankers began to praise the work of the new Commission. Crooked stock jobbers and sellers of "fake" shares were robbing the public out of billions every year were in a large measure driven out of business. Dire predictions of disaster were followed by the great increase in values of securities and normal improvement of business conditions.

Then Chairman Kennedy after serving the people at a small salary and organizing the stock selling affairs of the Nation resigned. He was at once offered the job of arranging the financial affairs of a giant moving-picture concern for which he was paid $150,000 for about six months of work.

Experts in the shipping business have shown the urgent need of the immediate construction of several millions of tons of new passenger and cargo ships.

The other members of the new Maritime Commission whose names have been presented to the Senate for confirmation by President Roosevelt are Rear-Admiral Henry A. Wiley, U. S. retired; Rear-Admiral Emory S. Land, retiring chief of the Navy's Bureau of Construction and Repair; Thomas H. Woodward, former Vice-President of Merchant Fleet Corporation and Edward C. Moran, Jr., former Democratic representative from Maine, forming permanent commission.

The word has gone the rounds of Washington that as soon as the new Commission gets started the keels of many new merchant ships will be laid down. President Roosevelt has named a "working gang" to accomplish this stupendous task. The experts of the Commission are working on new bids for many new ships. There are several plans under consideration. Specifications for a ship of the Washington-Manhattan type, the American vessels which have proven popular with the people that they are now ranked as the best "money-maker" for the people of the United States. They have a substantial amount of money invested in these hulls, have been drafted ships" of the American merchant marine.

The new Maritime Commission appointed by President Roosevelt under the recent act of Congress is now taking bids for the first ship for U. S. Lines. That the "Boss" in the White House is in earnest about this "ship business" is shown by his selection of "Joe" Kennedy to be Chairman of the Board. He is the "go-getter," the "star performer" of the more merchant ships. We are building a bigger Navy and what's the good of battle-ships without more cargo-ships to keep the Navy going. I promised the people in a message to Congress that we would build more ships to carry American citizens and goods all over the world."

The P.-T. A. is sponsoring a "Beauty Contest" and most of the local gals were all a-gog over the idea. However, many received a terribly disheartening and disappointing blow when they were not "asked." In a mass meeting Wednesday night, the spirit-deflated femmes decided to boycott—as yet, they have not decided just who are what to boycott.

Cheer up, girls, mamma still thinks you're pretty.

What attractive brunette matron who is employed as a beauty operator greeted the first winter blasts from the north this week attired in "long handled undies?"

Why have two handsome, young "bankers" suddenly lost interest in Strauss Dry Goods Co.?

A pretty, brunette co-ed of our fair city chose a very convenient and opportune time to have an appendix operation—just when her geophysicist friend is at home for a vacation. Smart gal, eh?

We understand that a well known barber of Hamlin has just been rechristened "Chiquito," a name which was bestowed upon him when he recently visited one of our neighboring nations.

Mayor Joe Culbertson was very unhappy this week, because the Lions Club completely forgot (or ignored) his birthday. Any way, many happy returns of the day, mayor.

Warning to the fairer sex: Beware of a well known business man who has a habit of asking ladies to drink with him and then leave them to pay the check.

It's a terribly strange predicament when a certain prominent druggist cannot find a "thing" to cure the very bad cold from which he has been suffering all week.

What stunning brunette, employed in a corner store, came in from a Stamford date with a colorful tie and handkerchief set?

Have you heard about the Hamlin Junior Carnival which is to be held October 30? We understand that it is going to be an event worth going to; there'll be plenty of fun and entertainment for everybody. Be sure to go and help those kids out. They will appreciate it and you'll really enjoy it.

When will a certain well known grocery man discover that he is neither a cowboy nor a butcher? At present, he has two fingers missing.

What young insurance man is in such a trance (or maybe it's a coma) these days that he can be introduced to the same person three different times without remembering?

We understand that a prominent young stockman and farmer recently made a business trip to Denton. (The "business" has auburn hair.)

Don't forget that today is the date of the annual clash between the Stamford Bulldogs and the Hamlin Pipers. The Hamlin boys have been in hard training and they are prepared to give the Bulldogs a tough battle. Those kids have plenty of what it takes—spunk and fight—but they need your backing and support. Be loyal to the Pipers.

The Junior Carnival will be given at the Hamlin High School, October 30, 7:30 p. m. A night of fun, frolic and entertainment for everybody—Come and bring your friends.

HEALTH NOTES

By Geo. W. Cox., M. D., State Health Officer

Austin, Texas.—State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox urges all parents of children between the ages of six months and ten years who have not been immunized against diphtheria, to take them to their family physician and have this done at once.

The first ten months of 1937 saw 1,635 cases of diphtheria reported to the Texas State Department of Health. This is an increase over 1936's figures, and shows the need of immunization of children in this age group.

It was not many years ago that parents dreaded diphtheria because of inability of the medical profession to either prevent or cure the disease. But today when we know both the cause and the cure there is no obstacle but negligence which will prevent the complete elimination of the disease in Texas.

Diphtheria is most dangerous to the young children, and it is especially important that immunization against it be given early in a child's life. In young children there is practically no reaction to the injection. Immunization has been proven to give absolute protection.

"It is in the power of the parents of Texas, cooperating with their physician and the Health Department, to eliminate the disease," Dr. Cox stated. "In about six months after immunization the child should be given a Schick test to determine whether further treatment is necessary. Early immunization against diphtheria is a routine procedure with up-to-date physicians. Cooperate with your family physician and your community and make early immunization a regular practice in Texas."

Stamford, It Seems Is Being Robbed Of Honor

It is perfectly natural for one making up the show when the larger small town to be in sympathy with another of similar size and position. What we say in this article is NOT just because Hamlin is a close neighbor of Stamford and is in the list of small towns in West Texas but it is because we deem it right and proper to speak out against a 'raw deal' that has been given or attempted against a small town, just because it is a smaller town. We would say as much for 'ANY TOWN' under similar circumstances. WHAT ARE WE TALKING ABOUT?

THE ATTEMPT TO TAKE FROM STAMFORD WEST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HEAD-QUARTERS.

Let us explain: West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been actively organized for more than TWENTY YEARS. Now there are about 178 towns, large and small, mostly the smaller caliber, paying into that organization. Each town has a director, and a group of towns in groups of counties elect regional directors. These regional directors make up what is called the Executive Board, about fifteen in number. Last week a quickly and perhaps a semi-secret meeting was called by "somebody" to meet in Abilene. It was revealed that Abilene was offering to "permit" the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to use an old Federal building in that city as headquarters of the WTC of C and move the head office from "little ole Stamford" where it has done so well for more than twenty years. Some of the attending regional directors had barely had an inkling of what was in the wind, but it seemed somebody "smelled a mouse" and rushed things and got an OK for the move. Abilene evidently regards having such an important office in their city as a great asset and really it is, most of all, an honor. They proposed that if they would move headquarters they would give them permission to use a portion of the old federal building and contribute $5,000.00 for its 'renovation.'

Let's not blame Abilene, it is a part of their growth to get all they can, and in this day and time it is a fight to get all one can, without measuring the ultimate results. That is the way it seems to the Herald. WHY SHOULD HEADQUARTERS BE MOVED FROM STAMFORD?

We understand that in Stamford the Chamber owns an elegant office, paying it out like rent, and as their force of office help is not so large perhaps there is still far more room than anybody could use. It is not however "out on the Broadway of America" but located in one of West Texas most progressive little cities, and by-the-way little towns really make up the West T. C. of C. Without them the larger places would go kerflunk. Now just why move? Just why should a man from Vernon or one from Stephenville or Ranger or Hamlin want to pick on "little ole Stamford" and rob her of an honor that has been hers and due her all these years. Why not have gone down to Fort Worth, or some where else, where an "Empire building" could be used free of charge? Well, they may argue that sub-offices like those in Lubbock, Plainview, Amarillo, Fort Worth and etc. will be consolidated at one place in Abilene. Is it ROOM they want? What about all this prairie about Stamford over here in old Jones County? Did anyone hint that Stamford could not meet every demand. They have in the past. Will this proposed move (it is proposed as long as Stamford can keep it in the courts—go to it Stamford) we say will it promote the welfare of the Chamber? NOT a bit, if we can see a bristle on a bull frog. This proposition, however so laudible Abilene's ambition may be, is not going to help the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and mark this; next time a larger city pulls a convention things will pick up. It is soon going to dawn on some cities that the smaller towns are about fed up on making up the show when the larger cities want to pull off a shift-dig. It is so easy for them to offer a shows it seems the best way to get "Queens" all dolled up in almost nothing to make up the feminine high lights to pull the boys in from the forks of the creek. To have sows it seems the best way to get 'em is to have a lot of young women do their glamor stuff. It takes small towns to do the trick. There is no use in pitting size against size, wealth against wealth—that is warfare and hurts a great country instead of building up with harmony and "live and let live."

It is mighty fine for a town to have a great and imposing building 'left on the hands' to try to fill it up some way. Some places do not even have one Federal building, and would be happy if things could be passed around a bit. Let's not pull everything into one locality—the remains would be but another dog-town prairie. We believe truly that if the individual membership of all the towns could have a say, the headquarters of the WTC would not be taken away from Stamford.

Stamford's cause is the cause of each and every town in West Texas which may have something that some larger town may want. Is it a case of bigger fish eat smaller fish? If so the wee fishes had better be careful what company they keep.

Stamford has an injunction restraining the removal of the headquarters from their city and here's betting a big hole in a doughnut that if they do not win by law they will by some other means.

We believe we speak generally for Hamlin's members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and we believe that they wish well for Abilene and for Stamford, and we believe that in the cause of harmony and better feeling one toward another, Abilene should gracefully withdraw their offer and the results would mean far more to Abilene than the gaining of the headquarters from Stamford. It would be only a brag that "look, we are in the center and have the Capitol of the greatest regional organization right here on Broadway of America." That would be something to brag about. But Miss Abilene, why flirt with such a big fellow, tell dear little Stamford you were just joking and really you don't want to snatch anything away from your neighbor especially if that 'something' has been there for nearly a quarter of a century.

He saw many of his admirers while here and was a visitor at the Rotary Club for luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Magee of Mexia visited with their aunt, Mrs. L. F. Cozzen, and family last week. On Friday they, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Cozzen, visited with relatives at O'Brien.

Ollie and Wylie Estes attended the funeral services of their cousin, Dr. Estes, of Abilene, Sunday.

Mrs. Viola Brown spent the weekend with her son, Louis Brown, and family in Hamlin.

Miss Mildred Young of Abilene is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Crow of Hamlin visited with Mr. and Mrs. Judge Crow, Sunday.

A fine boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hought on October 17. Mrs. J. C. Halden and children and Mrs. Walter Butler of Seattle, Washington, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Holden. A large crowd enjoyed the services conducted by them at the Methodist church Sunday evening.

The crowd at singing Sunday afternoon was quite small. We are hoping to have more present next time.

The box supper at the Methodist church was quite a success on last Wednesday evening, even though the weather was disagreeable. The sum of $41.60 was raised for the interest of the church. We wish to thank the merchants of Hamlin and Anson for the donations of merchandise which was auctioned off at good prices.

Due to bad weather only a small number of ladies was present at the Achievement Day at the home of Mrs. Eldon Pope on last Wednesday afternoon. A very interesting talk on the H. D. Association was given by Mrs. Pope. She also gave the history of her years work in canning, after which she showed those present her well filled pantry. Angel food cake and cocoa were served as refreshments.

JUNIORS GRATEFUL FOR COOPERATION

The Juniors are working on the annual Junior Carnival in a way which promises to make the carnival this year the biggest and best that has ever been presented in the history of Hamlin High School. Everyone, from the sponsor to the most insignificant member of the class, is enthusiastic about the outcome of the carnival. We are preparing for a large crowd.

There will be entertainment and amusement for everybody, so don't fail to attend this event. The Juniors are ready to give you the most enjoyable night of your life with fun—amusement—entertainment.

Miss Pope and the Junior Class wish to thank the other sponsors and organizations of High School for their cooperation. They particularly wish to thank the business men and women of Hamlin for their great support and backing. With their encouragement and support, the Juniors are able to present this year a new and different and better carnival.

Fight colds! Protect yourself and your family against becoming overheated or chilled. If you do "catch cold" consult your family doctor before it has an opportunity to undermine your health.

ONLY "a cold"

but serious disease may follow

YOUR doctor will tell you that "common colds" are dangerous. Fifty per cent of all disabling diseases start with this all too frequent winter illness. Many "colds" result from sudden changes of temperature such as occur to occupants of the home as they go from a warm room into an unheated part of the house. Unless every room is comfortably warm sudden changes of temperature are unavoidable.

Winter months, more than any other season of the year, require careful protective measures against "the common cold." If YOUR family is constantly "catching cold" HEAT YOUR ENTIRE HOUSE THIS WINTER FOR YOUR HEALTH'S SAKE — it's a simple precaution to avoid the dangers of sudden changes of temperature.

THE REST OF THE RECORD

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

The last week of the special session as rolled around and throughout the state there are sightless eyes, withered hands, and helpless baby arms raised in supplication to the Legislature of Texas. There are others going about the daily class-room duties of educating the youth of the State, ending under the weight of years, and wondering "if" a retirement system will be set up for the teachers. These are the ones who have watched the legislative session from a distance. Unable to come to Austin, some unable to vote, they have waited patiently for the Legislature to do its duty and raise revenues for old age assistance, aid for the needy blind, dependent children, and for the teachers' retirement fund. There has been another group stalking the corridors every day since the session began, crowding the legislative galleries, and intently watching the efforts to raise revenues by taxing the pipe line companies, the oil, sulphur, and other natural resource groups.

It has been the biggest, most powerful lobby Texas has ever witnessed in Austin. It is confidently and complacently awaiting the verdict of "no taxes."

Meanwhile the destiny of our unfortunate people lies in the hands of the Legislature.

The people have been told that I want to lay heavy taxes upon all the people. That is not true. A "hullabaloo" against this session has been raised and the cry swelled in volume that we must not levy taxes for the social security program voted by the people. When did this "hullabaloo" first arise? I'll tell you when it was!

After the Legislature voted these appropriations and went home last June, every one knew then that we were going to have another session in September to raise the money to pay the bill. But when I announced six or seven weeks ago that I was going to recommend taxes on the big pipe line companies, and others who have been growing pompous and prosperous by draining our natural resources—then the hue and cry started.

When I said that I had recommended these same taxes before that the program had been scuttled and that I was going to find out at this special session who was running Texas—that's when the selfish interests, through their mouthpieces started a campaign of propaganda.

They tried to make real estate owners believe that the people's program would raise their taxes; but they overlooked the fact that I had helped to lower these property taxes to the lowest point in over twenty years. They announced a great taxpayers march on Austin. 68 marchers finally rolled into Austin in Cadillacs and limousines, headed by a man whose chamber of commerce organization receives two thousand dollars a year contribution from the sulphur company alone.

The attitude of these people may well be judged by the leader they have chosen in the Senate against taxes for the needy. He is the same man who last year voted for a sales tax upon the poor; and then, when an income tax on the earnings of the rich was proposed, walked the floor and ranted that it would ruin Texas.

I'm not the only chief executive criticized for calling special sessions. When a few days ago President Roosevelt called a special session of Congress to help the farmers, he said: "I know that many enemies of democracy will say that it is bad business, bad for the tranquility of the country, to have a special session."

I'm glad the President has called Congress to try to do something for the farmers of the nation; and I have no apologies for calling this special session to help our own needy.

I say that when we have placed a just tax upon our natural resources, 85 per cent of which goes outside the State, when we have passed an income tax levied upon the earnings of twenty pipe line companies who made over seventy-eight million dollars net profit in one year, when we have done these things, then it will be time to talk about a sales tax.

I didn't have to call this special session except for my conscience. I could have taken the easy route; and then these special interests would have called me great. But I've gone about the State, and I've seen misery and want.

I've done my part. I've called this Legislature in special session and made my recommendations. For these things I shall continue to fight. But the destiny of our unfortunate people lies in the hands of the Legislature.
